HOPES OF PEACE

BRIGHTENING IN ST. PETERSBURG.

The "Russ" Publishes a Carefully Worded Article which may Pave the Way for a Definite Announcement.

Latest Despatch.

St. Petersburg, June 1.—A Russian announcement has been made as to the result of the royal family council at Tzariko Solo last night. It is rumored, however, that the Czar has determined on one more throw and that no peace overtures will be entertained until Linvitch has fought another big battle in Manchuria.

St. Petersburg, June 1.—Last night closed down on a gray and grief-stricken city, on hearts weeping blood for their missing ones, and on a nation's pride broken by the bitter truth that the fleet from which everything was expected had failed miserably in its appointed task and was scattered to the four winds at the Japanese pleasure.

But today's dawn brought a ray of hope. The solemn council of the royal family, convened to consider this new emergency, is still sitting and rumors are rife that a definite decision has been reached in favor of peace, and that preparations will be expedited at once through a northern European capital with that objective.

The "Russ" though guarded in its phrase, foreshadows something of the kind when it declares that Russia, although refusing to cede a portion of actual territory, will consent to evacuate Manchuria, to give assurances in regard to the territorial immunity of China, and offer a substantial indemnity to Japan, with guarantees as to the control of the Southern Pacific.

Working men, starting out in the morning, have eagerly bought the "Russ" standing in animated knots at the street corners, discussing the news that they believe to be a foreshadowing of the Government, and everywhere expressing their approbation. Today's developments are auspiciously awaited.

THE ST. PETERSBURG STORY.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—Whatever other information was contained in Captain Chagan's telegram from Vladivostok to the emperor was withheld, and no details are known except those contained in the dispatches from which the naval officers have been able to reconstruct a fair idea of the long and bloody sea fight.

They figure that Admiral Togo, with his main squadron, must have lain somewhere off the coast of Korea.

Admirals Kusunuma and Uryu held their squadrons further north to beat off the Russian vessels which might get through. Togo's fleet, as he prepared to bar the entrance to the Straits of Tsushima in case the Russians should be reported moving up the east coast of Japan.

When Togo's scouts reported that Admiral Rojestvensky was heading for the east channel of the Straits of Korea, the Japanese admiral advanced, around the northern part of the Far Islands and came upon the Russians steaming in double column with the quivers to port.

Togo had the great advantage of tactical position when he opened fire, having the lightest of the Russian ships between him and Rojestvensky's heavier vessels, thus smothering the fire of the latter.

Rosses, Togo was able to see all the broadsides, whereas the western ships of the Russian columns could only see the front of the Russian ships with difficulty and only with difficulty see any guns at all.

Nevertheless, although suffering the complete loss of four ships in the desperate encounter which followed, and being subject to a series of torpedo attacks Saturday night, Rojestvensky was able to steam two hundred miles during the night.

When Sunday morning came, the Russian fleet was divided into two divisions, the fleet and stronger division, under Rojestvensky, was met by Kusunuma and Uryu, while the slower division under Nebogatoff, renewed the fight with Togo.

With some of the scattered Russian ships, it was a case of save himself who can.

In the running fight yesterday the Japanese enjoyed the advantage of superior ship speed, enabling them to enter their fire and bring every crippled Russian ship to bay. Admiral Nebogatoff's battered remnant surrendered off Liancourt rocks, while Rojestvensky, with the best remaining battleships, fought on for the honor of the Russian navy. The admiral learned with a sense of relief that the flagship, Kaiser, had been sunk under the feet of the Russian commander-in-chief. The surrender of Nebogatoff's two battleships, even though the details are not known, is regarded as a disaster.

The ships still unaccounted for are the battleship Navarin and the protected cruisers Oleg, Aurora and Taurin, all fast vessels.

TOKIO CELEBRATES.

Bulletin, Tokio, May 31.—The number of Russian vessels of all description sunk and captured by Admiral Togo's fleet at this hour stands at nineteen. It is possible that three additional warships were sunk in the fight on Saturday and later. The navy department refrains, however, from crediting reports of the future until it is assured of their correctness. The government is awaiting a thorough round-up of the fugitive fleet, in hope of recording Rojestvensky among the captured.

Tokio celebrated the great naval victory last night. The main thoroughfares, streets and government buildings were thronged with cheering crowds. There were impromptu processions in various directions. The gardens carried lanterns and went through the streets followed by bands.

A SECOND TRAFALGAR

London, May 31.—The naval battle between the fleets of Togo and Rojestvensky strikes the imagination of the British public with far greater force than any of the military operations of these "Togo's" victory arouses far more interest here than any incident of the war and is greeted by the newspapers and the people with jubilation. Everywhere it is being compared with Trafalgar. "To be compared with Trafalgar," says the Daily Graphic, editorially, "has won the Trafalgar of the Far East, and won it as his allies refuse to note, in Nelson's year."

The same editorial recalls the fact that the battles of Manila Bay and Santiago did not cost the Americans a single ship, and it would therefore not be surprising to find that Togo has gained a relatively bloodless victory.

All the morning papers pay tribute to Admiral Togo's extraordinary success. They say that the sun has set on Russia's naval greatness.

LOSSES SUMMED UP.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—The latest advices confirm the magnitude of the disaster suffered by the Russian fleet, and point to the fact that Russia's hope so far as this war is concerned, now lies in whatever may be accomplished by the oft-battered army in Manchuria. An official report received from Tokio by the Japanese legation at Washington Monday evening says that the Russian losses definitely known include:

Two battleships.
A coast defense ship,
five cruisers,
Two special service ships,
Three destroyers,
Captured: Two battleships,
Two coast defense ships,
One destroyer,
One special service ship.
Over three thousand prisoners have been taken, including Admiral Nebogatoff.

The Japanese, it would seem, are still crushing the Russians, and it may be some time before the full disaster is known. There is nothing to clearly indicate the extent of the Japanese losses, and it is suggested from one source that the government is waiting to hear from Admiral Rojestvensky by way of Vladivostok before announcing to what extent its fleet has suffered.

The news of the disaster has caused deep depression in official Russia though it is not yet known generally among the Russian people.

Rojestvensky's defeat has given rise to renewed talk of peace. It is pointed out by the Associated Press St. Petersburg correspondent that Russia in the crisis will turn to France through its Foreign Minister M. Delcasse, while from Washington comes information that President Roosevelt, in accordance with his promise, announced a long time ago, is taking steps to do all in his power to bring about peace. Nothing has been heard from Admiral Rojestvensky.

In Tokio there is some belief that he has perished, while another source says he was rescued by a torpedo boat, but that he was wounded.

HALFBREED SERIP.

Frank Oliver (Minister of the Interior)—Before the Orders of the day were called, I wish to place before the House an answer to an inquiry made yesterday by the honorable member for North Toronto (Mr. Foster) in regard to a matter which appeared in the Winnipeg Tribune. I will read the memorandum as issued to me by Mr. Cote, an officer of the department:

In compliance with your verbal request, I have the honor to submit for your information the following report respecting the recent issue of scrip to half-breeds, authorized by Order in Council of the 17th December last, copies of which are attached hereto.

Under the Order in Council of the 2nd March 1930, authorizing an issue of scrip to half-breeds who were born in the Northwest Territories between the 15th July 1870 and the end of the year 1880, the claims of such half-breeds are not prejudiced on account of their residence outside of the Northwest Territories, provided their parents had been permanent residents of the Northwest Territories at the time of their birth, but under clause six of the regulations subsequently established, and approved by Order in Council on the 6th June, 1931 (copy herewith), half-breeds who had left Canada and taken up their residence on Canadian reservations in the United States and participated in the benefits of Indian life thereon, as well as all half-breeds children admitted to the United States Indian schools, were excluded from participating in the grant of scrip.

On the 13th August, 1931, an Order in Council was passed, which was published for the fourth consecutive week in the Canada Gazette of the 5th November, 1931 (copy herewith), in which it was stated that it was quite clear, in the opinion of the minister, that such removal did not constitute any valid reason for the refusal to recognize property rights fully matured and vested before such removal took place, and that this principle had been clearly and very properly laid down in former cases, where the right to scrip had been in question. Such Order in Council provided that the claims preferred before Mr. McKenna, and excluded under the said clause six, might be investigated by any officer or officers of the Department of the Interior, to be named by the Minister of the Interior, and that such officer or officers should have, in reference to such claims, all the authority formerly exercised by Mr. McKenna under the various Orders in Council relating to his duties as commissioner for the investigation of claims to half-breed scrip.

The undersigned, who was chairman of the half-breed commission for the Saskatchewan district in 1930, and a joint commission in 1931, with Mr. Roger Gossel, to investigate Northwest half-breed claims, was nominated by the Minister of the Interior on the 2nd October, 1934, to investigate the claims in question, and the following number of claims, in support of which the usual evidence had previously been submitted before Mr. McKenna, were accordingly reconsidered and disposed of as follows:

Claims allowed 103
Disallowed 108
Referred for further evidence . . . 26

The following number of claims of persons whose names appeared on Mr. McKenna's list as having been rejected by him upon preliminary investigation on account of the claimants' residence in the United States, and in support of which evidence was subsequently filed in the department, have also been investigated:

Claims allowed 11
Disallowed 62
Referred for further evidence . . . 43

It will, therefore, be observed that the total number of claims investigated under the Order in Council of the 13th August, 1931, is 365, of which 125 were allowed, 170 disallowed and 69 referred for further evidence.

RE DELIVERY OF SERIP.

It has twice been an inevitable rule of the department to refuse to recognize assignments or powers of attorney as authorities for the delivery of half-breed land scrip, and the 6th June, 1931, was the first occasion in which a half-breed asked for land scrip, the commissioner has no authority to accept or act upon any assignment or power of attorney.

It has also been the practice where the scrip certificate was not delivered to the claimant personally by the commissioner, to send the scrip by registered mail to the same address.

In case of any person designated therein upon a written request being filed in the department over the claimant's own signature, attested by two witnesses, who must certify as to the identification of the claimant, and one of the witnesses must also make an affidavit as to the execution of such order. The scrip, which was issued in satisfaction of the claims referred to, was forwarded on orders above indicated.

RE LOCATION OF THE SERIP ISSUED.

By departmental letter of the 10th March last, addressed to all agents of Dominion lands, the agents were advised that it had been decided to allow scrip-granted the half-breed residents of the United States under the said Order in Council of the 13th August, 1931, to be located in the name of the grantee thereof by the holder of such scrip without requiring the grantee to appear personally at the land agency to make his entry. It was also pointed out that the applicant for location should make the application over his own signature on behalf of the person named in the scrip note, and in all respects comply with the rules and regulations governing the location of half-breed land scrip, and that, as heretofore, assignments of these locations executed by the half-breeds prior to the date on which the land was entered for in the manner above indicated, would not be recognized by the department.

The Fight for a Duty on Lumber.

(Winnipeg Free Press.)

"Industrial Canada" continues to put up a valiant fight for the imposition of a duty on lumber; and in its current issue pleads with "the Manitoba farmers" to look at matters from its point of view and agree to the duty. The article is worth quoting as showing the line of argument put forward in support of the imposition of the duty. It is as follows:—

"The lumbermen of British Columbia are agitating for a duty of $2.00 per thousand on rough lumber, and 30 cents per thousand on shingles. In their efforts to secure this protection, they have received the sympathy and support of lumbering interests in every part of the Dominion. Recognizing the urgent necessities of the case, the press generally have adopted a most favorable view, and there can be no doubt that if the Government at Ottawa were to meet the wishes of the British Columbia millers, their action would have the approval of the public at large.

"It is a matter of regret, therefore, that certain influential papers in Manitoba and the northwest are still maintaining a vigorous opposition to the proposed tariff. This opposition is based upon the false assumption that with such a tariff in effect, the price of lumber to the consumer would be increased by the exact amount of the duty. No one, of course, will wish to belittle the advantages of cheap lumber to an agricultural community, but the question may well be asked: To what extent has the free importation of lumber benefited the settlers in the Canadian Northwest?

"The manufacturer of lumber does not sell direct to the consumer but to the middleman. Naturally the middleman buys in the cheapest market. During the past year he bought in the neighborhood of twenty per cent of his stock from the United States lumbermen at a price say, $2 per thousand less than the standard list price of the Canadian manufacturers. Was he philanthropic enough to give the struggling settlers the benefit of this? Possibly had the volume of foreign purchases been larger he might have been compelled to do so. But with eighty per cent of the home consumption still supplied by the Canadian manufacturer, it was quite unnecessary for him to make any such sacrifice, so that the free importation of United States lumber instead of benefiting the settler, simply enabled the middleman to make an ample profit out of him.

"But assuming for the moment that the predictions of those who oppose the duty on lumber are fulfilled, and that the cost to the consumer were increased by $2.00 per thousand, there are still good sound business reasons which would justify the settler making the additional outlay. It would be more than compensated for the trifling expense by the permanent and increased market which he would secure for his produce. He already enjoys the home market, though he may not appreciate its value. He knows, however, that thanks to the duty on butter, cheese, eggs, hams and bacon, all produce of this kind which he has to dispose of, finds a ready sale in British Columbia. This same province buys from eighty-five to ninety per cent of its flour from the Northwest; also immense quantities of hay, oats, horses and beef. Fully one-third of the population consuming these supplies in British Columbia is supported directly or indirectly by the lumbering industry.

"Now if through failure to dispose of their production, it became necessary for the coast mills to close down, what would be the result so far as the Manitoba farmer is concerned? He would suddenly find his profitable market to the west taken from him; access to the markets to the south is already barred by the high tariff; his local market would still be too small to absorb what he had for sale, so that he would be forced to bear the expense of heavy transportation charges on his produce to eastern Canadian points or to points beyond the sea.

"It is of the first importance, therefore, to the western farmer that these British Columbia markets should be preserved, and he has it in his power to assist very materially in their preservation by demanding that he be supplied entirely with Canadian lumber.

"A strike in the British Columbia saw mill industry is now at hand. One or two mills are already in the hands of the sheriff. Half a dozen of the largest plants have been closed up and a caretaker placed in charge. Scores of others are running on half time, and all are more or less embarrassed through having to stock up their low grade lumber. The natural market, in fact the only market for this material is to be found in the prairie sections. This market is now being gradually destroyed through the dumping of United States lumber at a price lower than that which the coast millers have to pay for theirs. In 1903, ten per cent of the lumber used by Manitoba and the Territories came from the United States. Last year this percentage was doubled. The Canadian miller is now asking for the same protection in the home market that the United States miller enjoys in his. Whether he approves the grade he wishes to receive under the evening tide of imports depends upon the answer of the Government to his present petition.

"Industrial Canada says that the duty will probably not increase the cost of lumber to the consumer; but even though every cent of the two dollars were added to the cost it would pay the western farmer to agree to the duty in the interest of building up a home market in British Columbia for the sale of the products of the prairie farms. This is at least frank; and frankness is much to be desired in the discussion of the tariff.

We take it that there is no likelihood of any tariff tinkering being done at this session of Parliament; and if Parliament runs along until August or September, as it now gives signs of doing, there may not be sufficient time in the Parliamentary recess to enable the tariff Commission to make that searching enquiry into trade conditions which should precede any readjustment of the tariff. That Commission in the discharge of its duties, will doubtless make an exhaustive examination of the whole lumber question, giving both producers and consumers a chance to be heard. With this information at its disposal the Government will be able to reach a just decision as to what should or should not be done. But we foresee trouble for the lumbermen if they hope to reconcile the users of lumber to an increase of $2.00 per thousand in its price. They will probably, however, take a very different line before the Commissioners, and undertake to establish that a duty would add nothing to the cost of lumber. If this could be established, it would no doubt help the lumbermen to gain their point; but the evidence on this point would require to be very emphatic. Nine times out of ten the contention that a duty does not increase the price is all moonshine. It is up to the lumbermen to prove that their commodity is one of the exceptions to the rule.

The Future Government

Red Deer Advocate: We know the Conservatives decided at Moose Jaw convention, that when the present coalition government of the Territories terminated, all Territorial elections following should be fought on party lines.

A number of influential members of the party do not agree with this decision. We presume that they will fall into line nevertheless. Mr. Hanft's action at the general election, while one which, as an individual, had every right to take, was so lacking in political sagacity, judging the course pursued by him, that his knowledge that he was the head of a coalition government, so contrary to common sense, to say nothing of diplomatic wisdom, that everyone who thinks about it at all must see that he has rendered the former condition of affairs impossible, in fact unthinkable.

He has himself to condemn for this, but in a politician this error of judgment is fatal.

On its merits, and circumstances favoring such a consummation, we might have found a coalition ministry a wise and workable one to advocate. In the present state of feeling, and calmly reviewing the facts, we strongly incline to the view that the parties will find themselves forced into opposition camps.

This very serious and urgent question will however have to be discussed and settled by each side in convention.

THE NEWS OF TO-DAY

IN CONDENSED DESPATCHES

Brief items from many sources tell the story of the day's events.

CICKING WON THE DERBY

London, May 31.—Lord Rosebery's "Garry" today won the Derby. M. Blane's "Jardy" was second and Clavell's "Gigolo" was third. The absence of American entries for the great event deprived the race of much of that international character which has made recent Derbys interesting. France sent a competitor in M. Blane's "Jardy" which was the second favorite though the betting indicated that it was not considered that Jardy had much chance against the rest of the entries. In the result however Clavell and not much to spare and only beat the French crack by 3-4 of a length, with Gigolo only a head behind.

Quebec, Ont., May 31.—The House adjourned tonight until Monday next. Mr. Wilfrid Laurier said the anniversary bill would come up some time next week.

CABBERRY RACES.

Flurberry, June 1.—The first day of the big race meet proved a decided success. There was a splendid crowd on hand, and the track was good, while the weather was ideal. The free-for-all proved an interesting feature and was won by Democracy. The second heat was won by Harry O. and made the postured heat of the day. The grey however came back strong and captured the next two heats handily.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Leithridge, May 31.—John Kelley, a farmer, aged twenty-three, was killed this afternoon. He was driving a motor wagon on the streets and began racing with the driver of a coal wagon. A wheel of Kelley's wagon went over the end of a culvert, the axle broke, the heavy tank upset and rolled over, horribly crushing him. Kelley was taken to the hospital, where he died in a few minutes. A widowed mother lives on a farm near Chatham.

BALL GAMES.

Winnipeg, June 1.—Yesterday's games: St. Cloud-Brunswick 9, Winnipeg 5. Grand Banks 14, Crookston 9.

ASSINIBOIA CONFERENCE MEET.

Regina, June 1.—The Assiniboia conference of the Methodist church assembled at 2 p.m. today, when thirty ministers responded. Conference will last several days and it is expected 100 delegates will be in attendance. Conference was opened by the president, Rev. H. Wigle. The following ministers were transferred from the conference to the Manitoba conference: Rev. Wigle, Rev. T. E. Hildner, Rev. J. H. Churchill, and Rev. B. J. Galley. Into this conference will be transferred Revs. J. E. S. Taylor from Hamilton, Rev. F. W. Shaw from Bay of Quinte, Rev. J. W. Watson, Rev. J. G. Switzer, Rev. M. A. Gagnon from Manitoba.

A REMARKABLE STORY.

WOMAN TELLS OF HER FOURTEEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

From Buffalo, N.Y., comes a startling story, illustrating how much suffering a woman can bear and yet live.

Mrs. H. J. Rehorn, 189 London St., that city, says:

"I was born on the 14th of my first child, 14 years ago, constipation became troublesome, and the various pills and medicines I used would give temporary relief, but gradually they ceased to lose their influence and the condition became worse. I must have used fully 30 different remedies."

"At last I would have no relief for food, and that I did not eat would cause me to starve. I would vomit and then, notwithstanding constipation, I began to gain weight, and gradually I began to recognize the best remedy, constipation, and never feeling fully cured."

"My husband brought me home a bottle of a new medicine called Anti-Pill and from the first I began to improve. My appetite was better and what I ate did not make me feel uncomfortable. Anti-Pill is mild and gentle in its action, and yet it cured my terrible constipation and made me feel so well."

Every Druggist sells this wonderful Anti-Pill that cured Mrs. Rehorn. 501

THREW A BOMB

AT KING AND PRESIDENT

Destructive Bomb Thrown at Carriage Containing King Alfonso and President Louber.

Edm., June 1.—An anarchist threw a bomb at a royal carriage last night containing King Alfonso of Spain and President Louber as they were leaving the arena after a gala performance. The bomb exploded without injuring either king or president. Three soldiers belonging to the escort were wounded. Many arrests were made including the person who threw the bomb, and three suspected of complicity, as the latter were seen under the archway of the Louvre with a destructive engine a few minutes before the explosion.

Paris, June 1.—The city, which has justly earned a reputation for its magnificent beauty, is indignant over the senseless attempt on the life of a well-known prince and queen, and has decided to take measures against the "Reds" who were shown that they only show the hospitality of democratic states. King Alfonso, who himself with surprising self-possession during the trying ordeal and has received many telegrams of sympathy from all classes of his subjects.

Foster's Weather Forecast.

Washington, May 27th.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent 26 to 30, warm wave 25 to 29, cool wave 28 to June 1. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 30, cross west of Rockies by close of 31, great central valleys, June 1 to 3, eastern states, 4. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 30, great central valleys June 1, eastern states. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about June 2, great central valleys 4, eastern states 6.

This disturbance will come with a period of high temperature and will be followed by a longer period of unusually cool weather north of parallel 38. It will cause severe weather.

Second disturbance of June will reach Pacific coast about 6, cross west of Rockies by close of 7, great central valleys 8 to 10, eastern states 11. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 8, great central valleys 8, eastern states 10. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 9, great central valleys 11, eastern states 12.

This disturbance will bring a wave of high temperatures following a spell of unusually cool weather. It will also bring one of the periods of severe storms that will occur in June, but these storms will be mild compared with some that occurred in April and May. This disturbance will reach its greatest intensity on 12 or 13.

June will bring two long periods of quite cool weather reaching lowest temperature not far from 8 and 23, and three spells of higher than usual temperature reaching their apex not far from 2, 12 and 30. A little earlier than these dates west of meridian 90 and a little later east of that line, the cool waves will be of much longer duration than the warm waves in northern states while the warm waves will be longest in sections south of parallel 38. Most severe storms near 1, 13 and 28.

I expect June to average below normal temperatures north of parallel 38, above south of that line, and rainfall to above normal north of parallel 38 and below south of that line; except that dry weather will prevail in Ohio valleys and Michigan. Serious droughts are expected in the southern states. Indications are that the drought will be most serious in southern Texas, about Columbus, Ohio and about central south Carolina. Indications favor too much rain in middle northwest for wheat and oats but favorable crop weather for corn. My bulletin gave correct forecasts of the electrical storms and tornadoes that occurred May 20 and 21 while Chief Moore gave no warnings.

Misdirected Energy

—Prime Albert Advocate: Energy and persistence properly exercised for a just cause are commendable qualities in a member of Parliament, but when expended in a bad cause or for the mere purpose of keeping himself in evidence, they make the member a nuisance even to his political friends. There is much the same difference between the two cases as exists between the industry and hum of the busy bee and the annoying and buzzing activity of a big blue-bottle fly. Mr. W. E. Maclean, representing a Toronto constituency, has during recent sessions and particularly this year in the debate on the autonomy bills made himself particularly conspicuous. His latest ill-timed and injudicious action was his indecent attempt to force the Government into appointing a successor to the Portfolio of Public Works made vacant by the death of the Hon. Mr. Sutherland. The members of parliament who attended the funeral of the deceased gentleman had only just returned to the House when this demand was made.

The Canadian North-West Homestead Regulations.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 6 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, may be made an entry for a homestead, or any made over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section, or 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made generally in the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the conditions of the Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent, may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, considered in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead. If the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3 or 4, must cultivate 20 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock with building for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privileges of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd June, 1898.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law, is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Land Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands, in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable land are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

Their opponents fell down at hitting and went to pieces in the field.

The lineup of the teams was as follows:

Alberta University Proposed

Calgary, May 31.—Prof. T. J. of McGill University, who was in the city during the present week has been in the west for some months. He is on an important mission in the west in connection with McGill University. He has been in British Columbia and to the people there has made a proposition that is creating very much interest.

The proposition there is to have a branch of McGill university in British Columbia. In this McGill university the province of British Columbia and the city of Vancouver are associated. A university is to be established there which will do a portion of the work that is being done in McGill. The first two years work being done exclusively in McGill, Montreal. While in the west Prof. T. J. looked over Alberta with a similar object in view. Until the province of Alberta is formed no definite action will be taken, but as soon as Alberta becomes a province a proposition similar to that made to the people of British Columbia will probably be made to the people of Alberta, and probably to the city of Calgary.

England Won

London, May 31.—In the first test cricket match between England and Australia, England in the second innings scored 426 for five wickets and declared. Australia made 188 in the second innings. England won by 238 runs.

WHAT COSTS MOST

The quality of the filler does not interest them at all—the binder is beneath their notice—but the wrapper and the name is all important. They can sell this kind of cigar at $25.00 a thousand, give a gold watch into the bargain, and then make a good size profit.

The principal cost of Pharoahs is in tobacco—I buy the best filler in the world—a Cuban leaf—one I select myself from the best of the Manicure district in the Province of Santa Clara—a Connecticut broad leaf as binder, the most expensive in the world—and I import a clear leaf Sumatra from Holland as wrapper.

I secure by this means a superb cigar, a fragrant, even smoker—very palatable—very superior to the ordinary run of cigars.

—Blairmore Times: "The Calgary crowd, backed by the partisan press of Alberta are now after Frank Oliver's scalp, and all over the distribution of seats in the new province. Here the people who have no capital are to grind, are satisfied and believe that Oliver is doing the best he can to give everybody and every part of the country a fair deal."

—Calgary Albertan:—A young man is under arrest at the police station under the serious charge of forgery. It is said that he obtained money by giving cheques on the Union Bank, High River, though he had no funds in that bank and never had any funds there. The man is named J. H. Hoffman. He got a cheque cashed at the Commercial Bank, making it out on the High River Bank. Mr. West did not like the look of the cheque and showed it to a policeman. Hoffman admitted his error and rewrote the cheque on the Union Bank, High River. The police wired High River and found that the man had no funds there. The same mistake was made at the Atlantic Hotel. The same proceedings were gone through at the Riverside Hotel, and it is believed in other places in the city.
